APPROVAL AND IMPLEMENTATION

This Position Qualification System is provided as a part of the Indiana Incident Management Program and the District Task Force Initiative. I approved both of those programs in July of 2009 as a means to address several goals found in the Indiana Homeland Security Strategy, National Preparedness Guidelines, and the National Incident Management System (NIMS). These programs are intended to improve the level and use of the Incident Command System (ICS) and on-site incident management capabilities as well as regional collaboration and CBRNE response capabilities. District Task Forces should maintain records of the qualification of Task Force Members under this Position Qualification System. All Hazard Incident Management Team personnel to be mobilized by the State of Indiana as a member of a Mobile Support Unit will be required to meet the established qualification standards in this guide. District Task Forces are encouraged to apply these qualification standards for District Task Force positions which require NIMS and ICS knowledge, skills and abilities.

The Position Qualification System defines Indiana's first performance based credentialing system. With this system, responders will be evaluated on Incident Command System positions and demonstrate their ability to function within the ICS. This type of system is indicative of credentialing initiatives in support of the NIMS.

Furthermore, the implementation of this system creates a backbone from which the creation of Incident Management Teams can be established at all levels of government. The development of Incident Management Teams will provide Indiana with command and management resources that have never before been available in the state. These resources will change the face of incident response during times of disaster as they can be used in a wide array of situations.

Now that we have a system to measure the capabilities of personnel and teams, we can utilize these resources in Logistical Staging Areas, Points of Distribution, Area Commands, Multi-Agency Coordination Centers, and in many other situations. With qualified personnel and teams, Indiana can approach large scale disaster response in a manner never before possible.

It is my hope that this Position Qualification System serves local agencies and jurisdictions as positively as I believe it will impact the state.

I. Purpose

This document serves as the qualification and credentialing guidelines for the All Hazard Incident Management Team (Type 3) personnel as defined in the Indiana Incident Management Program, an appendix to the District Response Task Force Initiative.

This guidance document is not written for the purpose of establishing minimum personnel standards and qualifications to be used as a basis of asserting liability against any of the participating agencies or entities. It contains statements of best practices. In many cases, the best practices contained within this document strive to exceed and improve upon prevailing standard practices, standards and qualifications. This guidance document is not intended to be relied on by any other individual, public or private or any agency which is not a participant in a Mobile Support Unit or a District Task Force. This guidance document is not intended to be used in a court of law to determine an applicable standard of care or minimum qualifications for emergency response personnel under any circumstances.

The sole intent of this guidance is to define and develop human resources deemed by the State as suitable to fill specific positions on a Type 3 All Hazard Incident Management Team as prescribed by the National Incident Management System. Persons who achieve this qualification may be utilized within their specific position to serve on a Mobile Support Unit and/or to fulfill Emergency Management Assistance Compact requests.

II. Objectives

1. Develop standards for Indiana All-Hazard Incident Management Teams (AHIMT) (Type 3).
2. Establish minimum training and qualification standards for incident management personnel working as part of an AHIMT (Type 3) or on single resource assignment.
3. Define the minimum required training and guide the development of skills and knowledge outside of the formal classroom environment.
4. Retain the foundation of the performance-based qualification system established and implemented in the National Wildfire Coordinating Group (NWCG) qualification system.

III. Guidance

With the publication of this edition of these guidelines, the standards established are the minimum to be met by participating agencies, organizations, and individuals that choose to participate in the Indiana Incident Management Program. The Indiana Incident Management Program is a voluntary program implemented by IDHS in July 2009 that provides guidance and minimum standards for the development of district AHIMTs.

Individuals applying to IDHS for qualification under these guidelines must have an All-Hazard Incident Management Team sponsor and a public safety agency sponsor. This means that individuals must be an official member of a district AHIMT and be approved to participate on the district AHIMT by their parent public safety organization. Individuals who have begun the process of qualifying for a position under NWCG guidelines can continue to use those standards.

IV. Position Qualification System

The development of 10 AHIMTs (Type 3) has been mandated by the District Response Task Force Initiative. The AHIMTs will provide local jurisdictions and agencies, Homeland Security District's or various Multi-Agency Coordination Centers (MACC) with an effective response organization to (1) manage resources and information, and (2) provide planning and operational advice to manage and mitigate an incident.

Personnel who are certified in a NWCG position may retain that certification and carry it over into the Indiana qualification system. Any other personnel must meet the identified standards herein to qualify in State positions.

This system is designed to establish:

- Minimum training standards
- Required skills
- Required knowledge
- Required experience for incident positions.

Minimum standards may be enhanced by the Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ) to meet specific needs of an agency or organization.

A. Introduction

Personnel mobilized by the State of Indiana within a Mobile Support Unit as part of an AHIMT will be required to meet the established qualification standards in this guide.

This guide applies to all Incident Command System Command and General Staff Positions for an AHIMT (Type 3) team.

This guide applies to all Incident Command System Division or Group Supervisors and Unit Leader positions.

B. Description of the System

The Position Qualification System (AHIMT – Type 3) is a “performance based” credentialing system. In this system, the primary criterion for qualification is individual performance as verified by a qualified evaluator using approved standards.

In a performance based system, qualification is based upon demonstrated performance as measured on incidents and events, normal job activities, or in exercises.

Indiana Incident Management Program
Position Qualification System

1. The components of the Position Qualification System (AHIMT – Type 3) are as follows:

a. Training: Training courses provide the specific knowledge and skills required to perform tasks identified in the Position Task Book. This provides a direct link between training and job performance. Persons desiring to be qualified in a position must complete the following training before applying for a Position Task Book.

- IS-100 Introduction to the Incident Command System
- IS-200 ICS for Single Resources and Initial Action Incidents
- ICS-300 Intermediate ICS for Expanding Incidents
- ICS-400 Advanced ICS, Command and General Staff-Complex Incidents
- IS-700 National Incident Management System, An Introduction
- IS-800b National Response Framework, An Introduction
- O305 All-Hazard Incident Management Team Course
- ICS position specific course for the position desired

b. Application: Once the above training has been completed, candidates may submit an application to the IDHS Field Services Division for a Position Task Book. All course records, training certificates, a summary of response experience, and any other documentation relative to the application will be reviewed by a committee established by the IDHS Field Services Division. Once a candidate is approved by the committee, the IDHS Field Services Division will activate and issue a PTB to the candidate.

c. Performance Evaluation: Position Task Books (PTB) contains critical tasks which are required to perform the job. Subject matter experts have established the tasks in each PTB to allow documentation of a trainee's ability to perform the task. Tasks pertaining to tactical decision-making and safety are flagged and require position performance on an incident or event. Remaining tasks may be evaluated through other means, such as simulation or other emergency and non-emergency work. Successful completion of all required tasks of the position, as determined by qualified evaluators, will be the basis for qualification application. Credentialing for Command and General Staff positions must use Indiana Department of Homeland Security AHIMT (Type 3) PTBs. PTBs can only be signed by Qualified Evaluators. Once PTBs are completed they should be forwarded to IDHS with the proper endorsements.

Important Note: PTBs can only be initiated by the Indiana Department of Homeland Security, Field Services Division. PTBs and the qualification process can only be initiated after the attendance and completion of required training courses.

c. Endorsement: Each applicant must provide an endorsement from their AHIMT Incident Commander and their Agency Head. In the case of AHIMT Incident Commanders seeking qualification, they must provide an endorsement from their District Response Task Force Commander and their Agency Head. Agency heads that are seeking qualification must provide an endorsement from their supervisory board or senior elected official. Individuals are responsible for providing proof of qualification on an incident.

d. Quality Review: Quality Review is the final piece of the qualification process. It is an audit of the PTB for proper completion and signatures. Upon successful quality review, IDHS will issue the successful candidate with the credential. The credential provides evidence that the individual possesses the requisite skills, abilities and experience to occupy the designated position in a mobile support unit. The credential may be used by a local unit of government or by a District Response Task Force in its determination of what individual to select to perform in a particular incident response event. In the latter case, the credential is merely one factor, which the local organization may or may not elect to consider.

2. Responsibilities

Applicants are responsible for completing the required training, documenting proficiency through a completed PTB and providing a Summary of Response Experience and Training Record with an application packet and submitting it to IDHS.

Each agency/District is responsible for selecting trainees, ensuring proper use of position task books, and approval of qualification application by trainees.

Once the PTB has been completed and the agency head and district has provided a letter of endorsement, the PTB and endorsement letters are forwarded to the IDHS Field Services Division which will review the documents for proper completion and signatures. IDHS Field Services Division will then issue a proof of qualification to the applicant.

C. Qualification

Each individual desiring a qualification in a position must have a sponsoring agency or incident management team. Each agency or team recommending qualification of an individual is responsible for ensuring the qualifications of personnel based upon the requirements of this guide. These qualifications must be documented in the Credentialing Application Package (Appendix C) which is submitted to the IDHS Field Services Division of IDHS.

A key component in the qualification process is the subjective evaluation, by the appropriate official, of an individual's capability to perform in a position. Completion of required training and experience does not guarantee qualification. Individual's must submit a letter of endorsement from their Agency Head and District indicating that the applicant has met the capabilities listed in the PTB and has the ability to function in the selected position.

The quality of experience gained in a given position should be closely evaluated when making a determination for advancement to the next higher position, to a different position, or for re-qualification. The quality of experience may relate to the kind, type, or duration of an incident or event in terms of personnel, equipment, the number of assignments, or complexity of operations.

D. Re-qualification

Each individual must apply for requalification before the expiration of their current qualification by submitting a Credentialing Application Package (Appendix C). Failure to reapply within 90 days following the expiration of position qualification will require completion of a new position task book.

Requalification is required every four years. Each agency or team recommending re-qualification of an individual is responsible for ensuring qualifications of personnel based upon the requirements of this guide.

A key component in the requalification process is the subjective evaluation, by the appropriate official, of an individual's capability to perform in a position. Completion of required training and experience does not guarantee qualification.

The quality of experience gained in a given position should be closely evaluated when making a determination for advancement to the next higher position, to a different position, or for requalification. The quality of experience may relate to the kind, type, or duration of an incident or event in terms of personnel, equipment, the number of assignments, or complexity of operations.

Requalification Requirements

- Complete 20 hours of in-service training over 4 years (based upon Appendix D)
- Participate (in position) in at least two incidents or events which lasts longer than one operational period of 12 hours or more and require a written IAP, or;
- Participate (in position) in at least two full scale exercises which requires the development of an IAP in an operational period that lasts longer than six hours.
- Applicants may request a one year extension with justification to IDHS

E. Required Training/Prerequisite Experience

Required training and prerequisite experience is evaluated by a peer review committee defined by the IDHS Field Division. Applicants may elect to appeal the peer review committee decision. The process for appeal is covered in Appendix B. The process for demonstrating the ability to perform the position is the completion of a PTB.

F. Additional Development of Knowledge and Skills Training

Additional training which supports development of knowledge and skills are training courses that can help to support a position performance assignment. The knowledge and skills necessary for successful completion of the tasks in a PTB must be acquired in a variety of ways, including work experience, exercises, incidents, or planned events.

Individuals must acquire the requisite knowledge and skills of a position prior to accepting a AHIMT (Type 3) trainee assignment. It is the responsibility of the agency head to ensure each trainee has the opportunity to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for position performance.

V. The Position Qualification Process

* Division / Group Supervisors and Unit Leaders are not required to complete the AHIMT Course.
